Welcome to Bloc Vault

Who are we?

BlocVault was started by a small group of investors who joined hands from various socials and other projects in the crypto world.

Our expertise in various fields has been merged together to create a highly motivated team focused on providing a block-chain ecosystem for the world to use.

Our Vision

As investors in this space for many years we have combined our ideas of what we feel was needed to make our lives easier when interacting with crypto assets.

It doesn't matter if you experienced in crypto investing or just a novice We aim to provide you with an all-in-one easy to use ecosystem that will make everyone's experience easier and more fluid, saving you time and money each and every time you use our products.

Our Mission

Our mission is to build the most trusted App suite stacked with products that will become the benchmark in this space.

From Fiat direct to token and cross network multi chain swaps, Chatting with friends and tracking your investments the BlocVault App will become a world leader.

Investing in crypto is by no means an easy task and can be quite daunting for new comers and even advanced investors with so many new innovative technologies being released daily.

The BlocVault team are fully committed to staying ahead of the curve and finding ways to make these tasks and investments easy through our web based platform and on our Apps

Our products will be used worldwide within the next 2-3 years.

Why choose us?

A few good reasons to choose us,

The BlocVault team have been in this space for a long time and have excellent knowledge of the pros and cons of everyday investing.

The BVL token is center stage within our ecosystem earn rewards for holding and vest your tokens for even more returns over time.

We aim to deliver a suite of modules that make investing and tracking your assets simple and easy while you are on the go.

Use BV-Pay in stores keep track of your spending with our easy use ledger. Shop in the currency required no matter where you are.

What do we have for you?

BV Wallet

The first one to be out for you soon is Blocvault wallet (BVW) . BVW will offer users the freedom to store trade and swap tokens and digital assets (NFT's) instantly on multi network. We are developing FIAT direct to any token to the token user holds or adds to their BV wallet. Our revolutionary cross chain smart swap function will make buying and selling your tokens much easier and less confusing. We are on the verge of developing decentralized exchange that will enable our users to exchange tokens into some of the worlds most commonly used fiat currencies EUR,GBP,USD,AUD etc in one click.

BV Track

Tracking investments and expenditure can be daunting and quit often we need to use different software or applications to do this sometimes even paper calculation which can take up your good valuable time. Let us introduce you our BVTrack inbuilt in our upcoming BV Wallet which will take care of all your token transactions on one simple ledger like a bank statement very easy to consolidate your earning and transactions.

BVLT Debit Card

BV-Pay our BVLT Debit Card with international support by leading payment solutions. Use me in-store or online for purchases worldwide. earn rewards for using me. The blocVault app will have a smart exchange where you can change tokens to stable currencies for use with your BV debit card.

BV Chat

The crypto market is complex to navigate, and not everyone makes it out with more money than they started with because of various hurdles in unregulated crypto space. As famous saying "Prevention is better than cure", we are making an effort to save people's hard earned money to not go in vain. BV chat offers to gather and discuss trading crypto professionally and exchange ideas about strategy, the psychology of trading, avoiding rug pulls and fake tokens possibly turning crypto trading into a fun filled profits.

BV Vault

It has never been easier to keep your asset safe. Protecting our crypto assets is what everyone needs in this digital crypto era. From secured wallet to cold storage devices we have many ways to secure our crypto asset. What do you think if we tell you we are developing a cold storage in your phone? Yes, you don't need to buy cold storage device. With added feature in our app we are developing a cold storage as part of our app suite right in your phone so you can easily move tokens and digital asset of the block chain and into your own vault which can be transferred to wallet any time needed. Using high level firewall security, secure access fingerprint and two step verification, we are developing a virtual air gaped system right in your phone. Once it is set up, the vault can be accessed securely away from the Internet. This gives users a high level of security over their assets.

BV NFT

NFT's are fast evolving to be the next wave of digital asset in the block chain world and we do have our focus on NFT in future from sports to art, music and pixel. Our NFT marketplace will connect directly with the BV Wallet app and allow you to move assets from your vault to the app and onto our marketplace and visa versa. The marketplace will be a place where you can buy, trade or swap with other all NFT enthusiasts.

BV SWAP

With the rise of new networks and new tokens in the crypto space over the past years we understand the needs of users to be able to swap from network to network in an instance. BV Swap a revolutionary multi network cross chain swap technology gives users the freedom to swap networks in an instance for better profits.

Check pricing across networks and swapping tokens across networks gives you added possibility of earning profits due to price difference across networks. You will have total control on your investments allowing you to invest on multiple networks.

How do we secure your assets?

Security in our wallets is top priority for Blocvault team. In addition to the mnemonic seed/ pass phrase , BV Wallet has several levels of security to protect user assets like 2 step verification will be used to access all accounts. However, we do not store user passwords, and cannot reset the password if lost. This measure prevents insiders from being able to tamper with customer accounts. If a user forgets or loses their password, the account can only be recovered with a mnemonic seed. Your encrypted account is automatically backed up to our servers and as a added safety, we add another layer of security by encrypting your wallet a second time. Securely storing your wallet on our servers ensures that you can access your wallet from any (and all) of your different devices. We also integrated finger touch ID for maximum security in addition to your PIN code protection which can be enabled/disabled inside the app. Even if you were unfortunate to lose your mobile or delete the app, all of your digital assets will be stored in our secured database. Similar to passwords, the Blocvault the company does Blocvault as a company does not store any of your passwords or mnemonic seeds or any of your personal data. We follow ethics and industrial standards in all our products and services.

BVLT

BVLT TOKEN

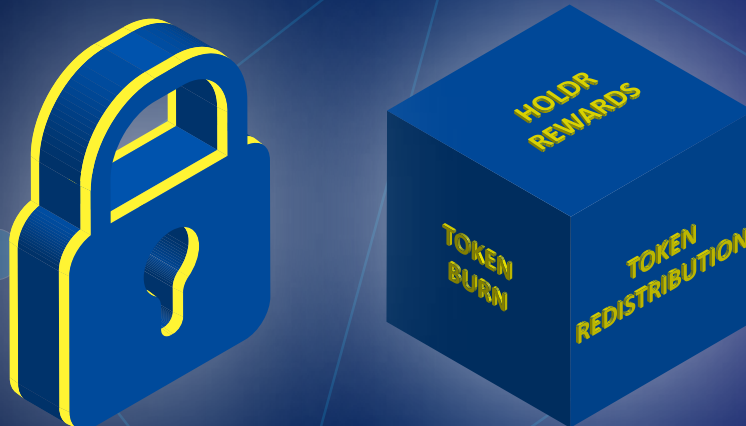

The BVLT token is our BEP-20 deflationary token on Binance smart chain (BSC. BSC has started to become one of the most widely used blockchains for decentralised finance (Defi). Because of this deflationary nature of the token, the stability of our token is increased and steady growth in value of each token is guaranteed.

Multifaceted profits

We have designed a triple benefit tokenomics to all our investors. Firstly, HLDR rewards to provide you with an automatically ever-increasing balance; secondly, a percentage of all swaps and exchanges from our products will be redistributed back to the BVLT token to boost the price of each token and finally 10% of the total supply will be burned adding more value to the token price eventually.

Liquidity Locked

Trust is earned when actions meet words. Blocvault being a crypto platform developed by the visionary investors of crypto world, we earn your trust by our actions . BVLT will lock liquidity to ensure faith and belief in our journey envisioned along with you.

BVLT Tokenomics

- Token supply will start at 3,000,000,000,000
- 12% Buy & sell tax.
- 3% Holders rewards.

1% Burn

The burn process of our token is used to strengthen the token price.

1% BV -Vest

1% tax from all buy and sell transaction is used for our vesting pool.

3 % Development

This tax is to support and develop our products as we continue to offer our holders and investors innovative products and services into the future.

2% Marketing

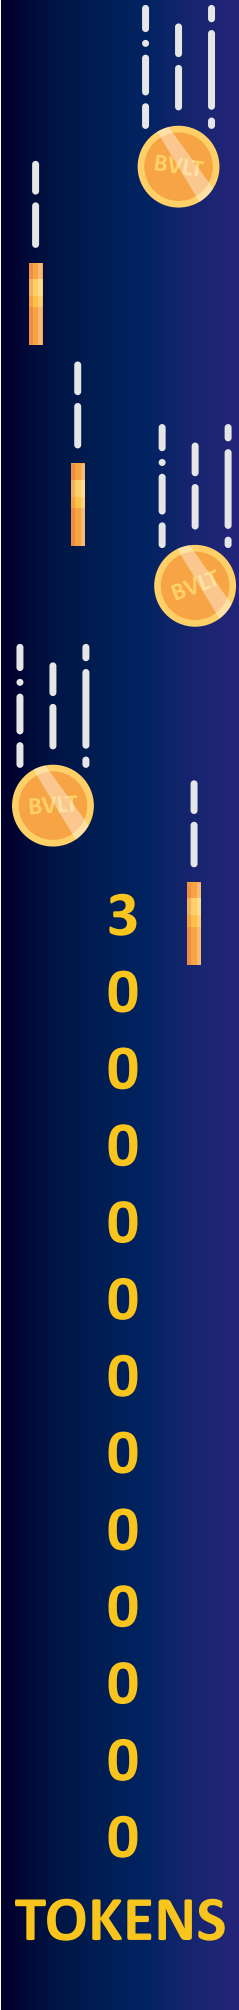

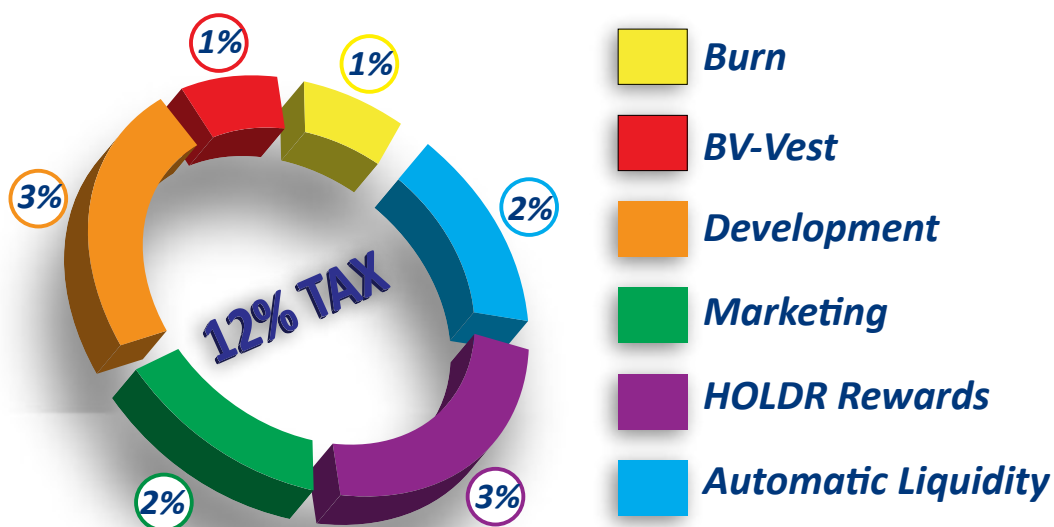

All buy-sell transactions get charged another 2% fee for marketing which helps Blocvault to grow our community.

3% HOLDR Rewards

3% on all buy-sell transactions allows the reward balance to accumulate and gets distributed to all HOLDERS.

2% Automatic Liquidity

As Blocvault grows, so does its liquidity and its hedge against price fluctuations. A 2% transaction fee on all buy-sell transactions helps the pool for Blocvault remain healthy.
